

McNiven, Alastair <McNivenA@bouldercolorado.gov>

to me

Ms. Boardman,

My name is Alastair McNiven, and I am one of the sergeants assigned to the Professional Standards Unit of the Boulder Police Department. My primary role is to investigate allegations of employee misconduct. I work directly for Chief Herold, and I also conduct additional investigations and follow-up at her direction. Chief Herold forwarded your email to me, and I wanted to request some more information regarding your client and the challenges she has faced in dealing with the Boulder Police Department. It would be helpful to know the circumstances under which this occurred; separate from any absence of trauma-informed care during past encounters with your client, we would want to know if our employees violated any of our policies. Unfortunately, our current Records Management Section does not show any contacts with a "Jacque Dilson Brunghardt" (I also asked them to check variations, such as "Brungardt" but they did not locate any reports); does/did your client use another name? I was able to locate a Daily Camera article from 2010 involving a Jacqueline Brunghardt, and based on certain links in your email, I'm curious if this is regarding the same matter. It would also be helpful to know when these interactions occurred, and the circumstances surrounding them.

Thanks,

Sergeant Alastair McNiven
